

EXTENDED WARRANTY

Provisioning Agreement

This Extended Warranty Agreement, also referred to as the “Provisioning Agreement”, is established this _____ day of _____, _____ by and between FluidTran Inc. (“Manufacturer”) and _____ (“Client”).

Whereas Client wishes to extend the existing Limited Warranty received when the FluidTran product was purchased,

And Whereas Client, by executing this Provisioning Agreement, authorizes FluidTran to ship replacement parts on a pre-determined maintenance schedule and automatically invoice client for such parts including any cost for shipping and handling,

And Whereas Manufacturer agrees to extend the original product Limited Warranty subject to the terms and conditions as set forth herein,

The Parties do hereby agree as follows:

General Provisions:

1. The original Limited Warranty on the FluidTran dispenser unit designated in the Product Identification section on page 2 of this agreement is being extended for the designated term. All Terms and Conditions as written in the original Limited Warranty will remain in effect for the full term of this Provisioning Agreement.
2. Client may receive the full provisioning inventory at the time this agreement is executed or FluidTran will ship according to the provisioning schedule, adding shipping and handling charges to the cost of the Provisioning Agreement.
3. Client agrees to perform all maintenance as required under the Provisioning Agreement in a timely manner following designated schedule.
4. Client agrees to submit full payment for provisioning parts, including any applicable shipping and handling charges, at the time this Provisioning Agreement is executed.
5. All shipments are FOB factory. Shipping charges for provisioning items will be added to the price of the agreement unless client shipping account information for direct billing of shipping charges is on file with FluidTran at the time the Agreement is executed.
6. Client must sign and return a completed copy of this Agreement attached to a copy of the original FluidTran Limited Warranty received when your dispenser was delivered, or you can submit a written request for product confirmation to FluidTran to identify your product serial number and purchase date.
